

This posting is for an opportunity as a Marine Technologists with McRae Electric Ltd. Applications will be reviewed as they are received. If we see a potential opportunity that matches your skills and experience, you will be contacted to discuss your qualifications. Only those candidates who have the necessary qualifications will be contacted.

About Us

McRae Electric is a marine installer, integrator, and supplier for electrical and electronic automation systems with more than 40 years of experience providing efficient cost-effective innovative solutions.

We are committed to the highest level of quality and safety in the services we provide.

The Marine Technologist is a vital asset to the McRae's engineering team who designs, reviews, and implements marine systems on all types of marine vessels along with other related documentation, as well as provides on-site technical support to customers to ensure proper implementation of engineered system installations.

Qualifications & Skills:

- Education Required: Electrical Technologist Degree
- In addition: Red Seal electrical ticket considered an asset.
- Years of Experience Required: 3-5+ years as a Technologist/Technician.
- 1-2+ years of field experience
- Proficient with marine electrical systems and documentation
- Experience in technical writing and proficient with MS Office suite
- Must have attention to detail and strong organizational skills
- Must be able to meet project deadlines with minimal supervision
- Knowledge and experience designing, building, installing electrical systems on marine vessels
- Proficient at AutoCAD required
- Experience working in a shipyard setting is considered an asset
- Experience in a Quality Assurance Role is considered an asset

Key Responsibilities:

- Marine electrical system design, including drawings, technical documents, schematics, system layout, bill of materials.
- Providing on-site technical support to customers during the implementation of electrical system installation/commissioning.
- Working with the Engineering department to identify design issues and potential solutions to engineering changes
- Providing technical input to engineering specifications and drawings
- Reviewing and updating system and equipment technical documentation as required
- Conduct technical investigations and feasibility studies

To Apply for this Career Opportunity:

If you are interested in applying for the current Marine Technologist career opportunity with McRae, please click complete the online application form. Additionally, in your covering letter, we ask if you could identify how your work background and experience aligns with the job profile and requirements.

We appreciate your interest in our company!